

Alas, there is no certificate for 01866/8. Instead, what you are looking at is a gateway to a goodie which I am sure will interest the dedicated investigator, since it lets them in on some wondrous activities of my mind which took place during a time when I had the privilege of studying music with Univ.-Prof. Dr.phil. Michael Walter.

Since I want everyone to unlock the goodie, I have made unlocking it extremely easy in order not to keep those from it who have had no experience solving wargame/capture-the-flag-style challenges. Therefore the password for the goodie which may be found at has not really been hidden from you at all. It is just there in a shape that makes it unreadable to scrapers and humans that are barely able to spell their own name. The password, then, may be plainly seen on the image file that is encoded as:

The knowledgeable eye will see that this is Base64-coded data. There, I just gave away the solution. Now, go forth and grab your gift.
